nephew of Sen. Butler, and that his right name is William H. Carby. He is an uncompromising free trader; Godkin of the Nation, has had extensive experience in journalism and will impart a new value to the literary department, while he will take care of the political features, in a way that will provide ample employment for his experienced pen.

Reports of scarcely less important charges in other city papers are current.

THE "VICTORIA" DISASTER

Sticking Scenes at the Week.

London, Ont., 26.—At the inquest held over the bodies of the Victoria victims, the captain said the boat was a 17-ton scow, 45 feet long, 12 feet wide, and 4 feet deep. It was built for 400 passengers; he did not think he had over 400. She was well stanchioned, had a good head, and had life-saving apparatus for 400. The boat leaked, as the engineer said it had had an arm's length in the hold. The upper deck load was so heavy, when asked to keep quiet, but on the lower deck there were unruly boys, who could not be restrained. The engineer, dreams, two black bands, and captain, were the entire crew. Nobody asked him to run the boat ashore.

Mr. Farnie, manager of the company, says the boat was overloaded, and estimated the passengers at from 500 to 600.
The vessel cost $17,000; no insurance, except for fire.

E. G. Montgomery, a passenger, says the boat was greatly overloaded. The passengers were quiet and orderly.
There was considerable water on the main deck at the start, which was drawn off by the pumps. When the boat sank, the passengers were in a panic.
The captain, who was on the lower deck, was killed. The engineer, who was on the upper deck, was killed. The boat sank in 15 minutes. The water was very deep. The boat was built for 400 passengers, but had over 600 on board.
The boat was overloaded. The boat was overloaded. The boat was overloaded.

WASHINGTON.

Randall in Albany—Dalton vs.

Haines—George A. Steel

Vindicated.

Washington, 26.—Ex-Speaker Randall has gone to Albany to advise democrats, by invitation. He hopes either to get one democratic senator, or prevent any election by this legislature. He prefers Conkling to any other republican and doubtless the democrats will support him as against any other republican.
Randall is troubled because they can't get any promise from the administration of patronage. The President and Haines both favor the regular republican organization.
At the treasury department, to-day, it is considered practically certain that Assistant Secretary French and Superintendent Snowdon, of the Philadelphia mint, as two members of the commission to investigate the charges preferred by Representative Page against superintendent Dodge, and there seems to be a strong probability that Mr. Reynolds, first auditor of the treasury, will be detailed to act as third member of the commission. It is not expected that any "outside" parties will be appointed on the commission, for it appears that the section 3653 Revised Statutes prohibits the payment of any compensation or expenses to any commission of inquiry, other than officers or employees of the government, unless Congress shall have made some specific appropriation therefor.

The secretary of the interior has declined the case of Dalton vs. Haines et al., involving Dalton's right to obtain title to several thousand acres of very valuable land in Los Angeles County, Calif., by purchasing it from the United States at ordinary government prices under act of July, 1866. Secretary Kirkwood reverses last year's decision of the secretary of the general land office, and holds that Dalton is not entitled to purchase any of the lands in question, as he has failed to prove the requisite "use, improvement and continuous actual possession" since his purchase which are prescribed by the law. The secretary holds that the claims of the various settlers and of the Southern Pacific Road Company, were involved in the question, but they must heretofore be brought up for consideration by separate process.

The investigation ordered by Postmaster General James into charges against George A. Steel, postal agent in Oregon, of complicity in a post route fraud, recently preferred by George E. Cole, the present postmaster at Portland and other parties of the Oregon route, has been continued at the last session of the Senate has resulted in a dismissal of the charges without subjecting Steel to a trial, and Steel has been further vindicated by appointment as postmaster at Portland by the President at the instance of the postmaster-general.
Washington, 27.—Secretary Windom will compel the rigid enforcement of steamboat laws required by the Revised Statutes, which provide that every officer who neglects or refuses to make any return or report which is required to be made by any act of Congress, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not more than $100, nor less than $10. Three officers failing to make the reports required have been called upon by other from Secretary Windom to explain their neglect to comply with the order, and were informed of the penalty they have incurred thereby.
